WIRE WORM IS BEING STUDIED BY STATE MEN

TEXAS EXPERIMENT STATION MAKES A REPORT

Entomologist Here Now Making an Extensive Study of Damage by False Wire Worms.

Extensive research work on the part of the Texas Experiment Station has been made in studying the false wire worm situation in the wheat fields of the Panhandle during the past several months. The station sent S. E. Jones, entomologist, to the Panhandle last fall to study the damage done by this insect to winter wheat during the fall months. He was in the Panhandle for several weeks, a large part of which time was spent in Randall county. A number of samples of the worms were taken from the fields and carried to College Station where they have been studied during the winter.

Several days ago Mr. Jones returned to the Panhandle to make a study of the worms during the spring months. He has been in the county since Tuesday studying the conditions and examining the effect and the extent of the damage done in the small grain fields of this section. It is through the co-operation of the wheat farmers and the county agent that the experiments have been conducted so extensively over the county. He will spend the rest of the week here.

"We have discovered that the spring oats are severely damaged when planted during dry weather in the infested fields where wheat was grown last year," Mr. Jones says.

"From all appearances at this time," he continues. "There will be a large number of beetles here this summer. Where the wheat remained in the ground some time before germinating last fall the worms damaged it to the extent that in many places it was necessary to replant it."

The entomologist is not only making a survey of the wire worm but of other wheat insects and the Southwestern corn stalk borer.

Plains False Wire Worm

The following is a report of some of the findings made last fall and was issued by F. L. Thomas, chief of the division of Entomology at the station. It was issued early this week.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station is making a spring survey of the insect situation in the Panhandle, paying particular attention to pests of the wheat crop. The plains false wire worm is the most important over the north plains area at present and has been causing considerable uneasiness to the wheat growers.

It will be recalled by many that

College Senior Play Was Given Tuesday Evening

The annual senior play of the college was presented to a full house at the Education building auditorium on Tuesday night.

"Mrs. Partridge Presents," a brillian comedy by Mary Kennedy and Ruth Hawthorne, was chosen for this year's production and Greta Mae Cayton of Amarillo was chosen for the title role, that of the ambitious business woman and mother who attempts to make everybody happy by regulating their lives. This part was well developed by Miss Cayton and kept the audience in laughter throughout.

Other important parts were those taken by J. D. Hazlewood of Canyon, Naomi Malone of Tulia, Robert Hunt, Dorris Lynne Loudder and Mrs. Ola Gillespie of Canyon. The last was a difficult character part, that of an Irish maid.

The play, which was directed by Miss Mary Morgan Brown, showed finish and the fine touches which have come to be expected from the casts directed by her. Miss Georgia Whittenberg of Canyon and Miss Frances Trammell of Coleman were assistant directors and C. W. Batchelder was technical director.

The cast included: Mrs. D. Ola Gillespie, Wendell Cain, Naomi Malone, J. D. Hazlewood, Greta May Cayton, Dorris Loudder, Robert Hunt, Durwood Brown, Georgie Whittenburg, Ada Claire Bain, Leon Penick and Ione Ball.

Change Date of Park Opening From May 16 to May 17—Work Under Way On Road Construction—Adopt Rules

A change in the date of the opening of the new park site recently leased by the Chamber of Commerce was announced by President Byrle Elliston Wednesday. The date has been changed from May 16th to May 17th.

"This is done he states in order that the opening day will not conflict with the closing of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in session at Lubbock next week," Mr. Elliston said.

"We must depend upon the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for its moral support at least and we do not want to cause any conflict with anything being held in our city of Lubbock. This is not merely a Canyon affair, but one of the entire western part of Texas, and we want their co-operation."

An invitation will be extended to the visitors at the West Texas convention to attend the opening of the park and the park will be thoroughly advertised during the convention. If an exhibition space can be obtained an exhibit of pictures, the same as was carried to Abilene last year and to Austin during the winter by Ray V. Davis, will be placed in Lubbock.

Work on the construction of a road to the section for the park is well under way and it is expected that the road will be completed and everything in readiness for the opening on May 17th.

A set of park rules were formulated at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors held Tuesday. Such rules as those in force in the national parks which are adaptaable to the local situation were adopted.

A committee consisting of Travis Shaw, S. B. Orton and L. N. George was appointed to handle the sale of the concessions and policing of the park. A. K. Webster, Amarillo, Ray V. Davis, Travis Shaw, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, J. W. Kleinschmidt, J. B. Elliston and L. N. George made up the committee of adopting the rules and regulations of the park.

Seniors to Stage Class Play On Friday Evening

As a prelude to the coming events of commencement week, the senior class of the Canyon High School will present the annual class play at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock. The play, "The Country Cousin," was written by Booth Tarkington, and is said to be one of his best comedy-dramas.

The leading role, that of the country cousin, Nancy Price, is played by Nancy Strain. She is styled as a native of Ohio, reared on the farm. Her dealings with the sophisticated people of New York, when she is transformed from the rural life to city life, brings about many amusing and humorous incidents.

Beneath it all she carries her common sense and firm principles and has the faith of her convictions. With these qualities she eventually gains the admiration of her critics.

The young Englishman with his queer conceptions regarding rural life and his confusions of the names of several states, lends much humor to the play.

The play is in four acts, has plenty of action and is colorful throughout. The climax is reached when Sam Wilson, a boy from "back home," goes to the city and claims Nancy for his own.

The play is directed by Miss Elizabeth Weter. The complete cast follows:

Mrs. Howitt — Kathryn Bryant
Eleanor Howitt — Martha Ann Keirsey
Sam Wilson — Louis Upchurch
Mr. Stanley Howitt — Back Cox
Mr. George Tweksberry Reynolds, III — Irving Gamewell
Athalie Wainwright — Bettye Sternenberg
Mrs. Kinney — Lucile Davault
Cyril Kinney — Herbert Slack
Archie Gore — James Cabe
Maud Howitt — Florine Bowman
Pruitt — M. E. Cleavinger
Mr. Blake — Clark Ash

Graduate Work For College Is Drawing Students

The graduate council of the college faculty which is headed by Dean R. P. Jarrett, held a meeting yesterday afternoon to complete the plans for the beginning of graduate work at the college this summer.

A small publication giving information about the opening of the graduate school will be mailed this week to a selected list of 2000 teachers throughout the state of Texas. So far as it is possible to do so, this list will be sent only to persons who already have bachelor degrees.

Other plans for the summer school are being rapidly perfected. Registrar D. A. Shirley states that the daily schedule will be ready for the printers soon.

Bulletins advertising the summer session were mailed to 3500 prospective students during the past week, and the administrative offices of the college are receiving a stream of inquiries regarding the summer work.

The offices of the dean of women and dean of men are being kept busy answering inquiries which come from those seeking living quarters for the summer months. Between thirty and forty students have come in for the last six weeks of the spring quarter and most of these will stay throughout the summer. Everything points to a highly successful summer session.

DANCING AND EXPRESSION RECITAL AT HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Jack Houser of Amarillo will give a dancing and expression recital in the auditorium of the Canyon high school Tuesday evening, May 12, at 8:15.

Among those who will appear on the program are: Mary Ellen Oldham, Carolyn Mayfield, Shirley Harrell, Peggy Bishir, Bill Pike, Marylyn Moses, Jean Marie Kleinschmidt, and Betty Jo Thurman.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charges.

Legislature To End Session On Friday, May 22

Following a ruling from Attorney General Jimmie Alred, the 42nd session of the State Legislature will continue 10 days following the regular date for adjournment according to information from Representative Clyde W. Warwick, received by the News Wednesday night.

The date for adjournment has been set for May 22, Mr. Warwick said. After May 12 the legislators will receive only $5.00 per day for the remaining time they are in session. Much important work is yet to be done before the session closes.

"Kick In" Will Be Presented At College May 23

May 23rd has been chosen for the date of the annual commencement play which will be given under the direction of Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the college speech department. The play this year is very different from former commencement plays. It is "Kick In" by Willard Mack. Mack is one of the best American dramatists, and this is an exciting but sympathetic crook play.

The cast includes a number of students who are already known to the Canyon audience by their work in the Dramatic club. Miss Lorene Robbins and Guilford Miller will carry the leads. Other parts will be taken by Wilmoth Gamble, Tom Henderson, Hatcher Brown, Leon Landon, Robert Rowan and Frances Lester. Miss Georgie Whittenburg, Miss Estilene Harris and Charles Donnell will have good comedy parts.

The commencement play is usually greeted by a capacity house and this year promises to be no exception to the rule. The admission will be 35 cents.

Miss Patsy Van Dyke had as her week end guests, Miss Maude Eidson of Texas Tech at Lubbock, and Miss Minnie Allen of Quail. Miss Eidson atteded W. T. last year.

Miss Lilian Cash Buried on Friday; Died at Sherman

Miss Lilian Cash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cash of this city, died at the St. Vincent's Sanitarium in Sherman, Texas, on April 30 at 3:15 p. m., following a major operation of only a few days previous.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church here on Friday afternoon, May 1, at 2:30 p. m., Rev. W. C. Kunze, pastor of the church, and Rev. F. T. Charlton conducting the services.

Miss Cash was a teacher in the public schools of Bonham, Texas, at the time of her death. She was completing her third year as teacher there.

She was born in Dimmitt, Texas, but moved to Canyon with her family at an early age. She was graduated from the Canyon High School and received her B. A. degree from the West Texas State Teachers College in 1928. She had also taught school at Aiken.

Noted for her charm, her happiness and sunny disposition, Miss Cash won and held many friends. She was popular both here and at the places where she had taught school.

The deceased was born January 31, 1908, and was an active member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are her parents, three sisters, Mrs. O. J. Laas of Plainview, Dorothy and Rose Cash of Canyon; and one brother, Harvey Cash Jr., who is a student of A. & M. College at College Station.

Interment was at Dreamland cemetery where she was laid to rest beneath a bank of floral offerings, tokens of love from her many friends. The Griggs-Thompson Funeral home was in charge.

Boy Scouts Are Presented to The Rotary Club Tues.

With the Community Service meeting in charge of the program Tuesday, the Rotary club was given a short demonstration of the work that the Boy Scouts are doing and of the type of training they are receiving.

Following a short talk by Rev. Charlie Jameson, five scouts, Louis Upchurch, Glen Gillispie, Don Savage, Leo Duflot and Hampton Lisle, demonstrated their ability at tying knots, building fires and their knowledge of rendering first aid. Accompanying the scouts were Boone McClure, scoutmaster, and Lewis Shirley, assistant. McClure told of the work of the scout organization in Canyon and expressed his appreciation of the aid received from the Rotary club in sponsoring the scout work as a part of the community service.

The local Boy Scouts will go to Amarillo this week-end to participate in the second annual field events for the scouts of the Panhandle area. Last year the Canyon scouts won first place in the meet and are preparing to take first honors again.

Rev. Jameson gave the club a belated report on the recent conference of the 41st district of Rotary International held in Plainview. He presented the humorous side of the meeting in such a way that the club was kept in an uproar of laughter for several minutes. He expressed his appreciation of the club and the Community Service committee in sponsoring the scout work in Canyon. This he declared is one of the best things that any organization can do.

Nominations for new officers for the club were presented. These will be voted on at the last meeting in May. The nominations were: Clyde W. Warwick, president; Oscar Gano, vice president; Earl Robbins, secretary-treasurer; Harry Brown, Travis Shaw and J. W. Kleinschmidt, directors.

Visitors present were: A. K. Webster, Charles E. Gregg, Ed Enochs, Harold V. Krupp, Frank Satterfield, and Roy White, Amarillo; L. N. George and Boone McClure, Canyon.

APPROPRIATION BILL HAS TO YET MEET APPROVAL OF BOTH GOV. STERLING AND SENATE

Another step toward the realization of hopes for a museum building to house the relics already collected, was seen when the House voted a measure for the appropriation of $25,000 to be matched by $25,000 by people of the Panhandle for the erection of the museum by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society on the campus of the West Texas State Teachers College.

The item was only one of two new building items on the appropriations bill which passed the House Tuesday and it was deemed a signal victory, by the entire Panhandle, on the part of Representative Clyde W. Warwick, who introduced the bill for the $25,000 appropriation. It was the first time a bill of that nature has been introduced into the legislature, when the people of any section of the state offered to match the state funds.

Although it has yet to pass the senate and to receive the governor's signature before the money is assured, it is felt that the bill will likely receive the approval of both the governor and the senate. It was the senate finance committee that first gave a favorable report on the bill several weeks ago, and it is believed that the majority of that body will vote for the bill. Representative Warwick stated Wednesday that he did not think the governor would veto the bill as it was the only one where the state would be matching the funds of a group of people and that the new buildings appropriation was amounting to only $65,000. The other building is a $40,000 hospital at C. I. A.

L. F. Sheffy, field secretary of the society, stated that this bill was passed by the house without any lobbying on the part of the historical society and that he felt that it would meet with the favor of both Governor Sterling and the senate. Should that be the case, the work on the building will no doubt begin within the next few months. The funds from the state would be available September 1 and with the amount already subscribed and the few thousand dollars yet to be raised would make it possible for the work to be started at an early date. The time for construction will be decided by the board of directors of the society.

"Should we be fortunate enough to receive financial aid from the state of Texas, we will have something that will surprise the entire Panhandle when we get the building erected," Sheffy declared. "We have a collection of relics that we have never before been able to amply display that will surprise everyone. It's almost impossible to realize the amount of valuables we now have and the special private collections that are being held for us until we can get a building of our own.

"We have received much communication from several museum foundations recently who want to aid us in carrying on our work. This section of the nation has not been touched by any other organization and we have a wealth of material that has never been imagined by the majority of the people. With the help of Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, we will unearth much valuable material when we have some place to take care of it."

House Votes Salary Cut

Representative Warwick in communication to the News Wednesday night stated that he did not believe that the senate would pass the salary cut voted by the house several days ago. The bill which passed in the house, although opposed by Mr. Warwick, placed a cut of five per cent on salaries of teachers in state institutions which were under $2,750 and a 10 per cent on the salaries of those above that amount. It is expected that there will be a compromise between the senate and the house before that particular bill goes to the governor.

Endeavors Open Convention Here Friday Evening

An inspiration program has been announced for the Christian Endeavor convention of the Panhandle district which will convene here in annual session at the First Christian church, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"The Challenge Still Holds Today" has been chosen as the theme of the convention and addresses will feature the various challenges of youth for Christian living and Christian service.

The convention will open with an address by Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Amarillo, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Other addresses during the convention will be given by Harold Singer of Indianapolis, Mid-west secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavor; Harold F. Lovitt of Dallas, general secretary of the Texas C. E. Union; Rev. E. P. Geiser, pastor of the First Christian church of Hereford; Rev. John Mullins, pastor of First Christian church of Childress, and Ernest Cabe, Jr., student in West Texas State Teachers College.

Election of officers and the award of shields and banners will be held Saturday evening.

Entertainment features of the convention will include a complimentary luncheon at noon Saturday for all registered delegates, a trip to the Panhandle Historical Society museum Saturday afternoon, and the fellowship banquet in the American Legion hall Saturday evening. C. A. James of Amarillo, district vice president, will be toastmaster at the banquet.

Special sessions will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:40 for the Intermediate and Junior Endeavors when the Intermediate Oratorical contest and the Junior Bible sharpshooting contests will be held. Miss Dorothy Cox of Plainview will have charge of the intermediate session and Mrs. Gladys Green of Amarillo will preside at the junior meeting.

A sunrise prayer session will be held on the steps of the administration building of West Texas State Teachers College Sunday morning.

CONGRESSMAN HERE.

Congressman Marvin Jones Visits in Canyon Tuesday.

Marvin Jones, congressman from the Panhandle was in Canyon a short time Tuesday morning. He stopped by here enroute to Hereford.

Mr. Jones stated there are prospects for the Democratic Party to gain power and place a president in office at the next national election. He said that several prospective candidates were mentioned in political circles. These include Governor Roosevelt of New York, Cordell Hull, Carter Glass, and others.

It is expected that when Congress meets again, John Garner will be elected speaker of the house of representatives. Mr. Garner has served in Congress 30 years. Mr. Jones states that there is a possibility of the Democrats holding a balance of power in the next Congress. Texas, he says has been a state since 1849 and has never had a speaker in the house.

BIG SNOW 14 YEARS AGO.

John Guthrie was displaying pictures of snow scenes taken in Canyon on May 6, 1917, 14 years ago yesterday. According to Mr. Guthrie the snow was approximately 8 inches deep. Many people could not be convinced of the date of the snow until they read the inscription written on the photographs by the photographer.

ONE WEEK LEFT

By CLYDE W. WARWICK
(Representative 123rd District.)

With only one week remaining of the regular session of the 42nd Legislature, it is clearly seen that many of the major bills will die on the calendar. The question has been raised as to whether or not the session may continue beyond the 120-day period and constitutional lawyers are debating as to whether or not the amendment adopted last November in the general election will really limit the regular session to this period. If this is true, hundreds of bills will die on the calendar.

It is the consessus of opinion that the legislature should adjourn and go home just as quickly as possible. The people of the State are always uneasy when the legislature is passing bills and although the scope of bills introduced is much greater than usual, there is really satisfaction among the citizens of the State that a small proportion of the 1600 bills pending will be enacted. Unfortunately many meritorious measures will die together with scores of bills which should never have been introduced.

Ten tax raising measures are pending and will probably never be acted upon. The State will face a shortage of seven and one-half million dollars at the end of the present biennium if the tax rate remains at 27 cents. As a matter of fact the rate should never have been placed at this figure for this year. Tax experts informed Governor Moody last June it should be 31 cents but he was seeking an excuse at that time to run for a third term and of course kept the tax rate at the lowest possible figure.

Just what will happen to the general appropriation bills will be a matter for the free conference to decide and this decision will not be reached until the closing hours of the legislature. The free conference always writes the bill. The hardest fight on salaries in recent years was made in the House with the result that the appropriation bill for educational institutions and departmental maintenance will be considerably under the total of two years ago.

Both the House and Senate have passed constitutional amendment proposals exempting homesteads from state taxes. This amendment will be submitted to the people for a vote. It is looked upon as an entering wedge to do away with the ad valorem tax for State purposes.

The constitutional amendment increasing the governor's salary to twelve thousand has been turned down. This is another evidence that economy reigns in the legislature.

The state will not take over more educational institutions. An offer was made to give Meridian College to the State, and the proposal was rejected this week in the House by a very large vote. It is felt as though the State should first adequately support its present institutions before taking over more schools.

A West Texan, George Moffett, of Chillicothe, successfully passed a constitutional amendment proposal in the House limiting large counties to representation in the legislature. If this proposal is passed by the Senate no county may have more than five representatives. This would not distribute representation according to population and for that reason the resolution will most likely fail before the people, if it should be voted upon by the State.

The Austin daily newspapers have carried a determined fight against the Travis County senator and two representatives because of their attitude on the State bond issue. The newspapers are charging that Jim Ferguson is having too much to do with the defeat of the bond issue. It is said that he has forty-eight warm personal friends in the House of Representatives and that eleven others will join in all attempts at passing the bond amendment to the people. This proposal failed in the House two years ago by one vote. West Texas is divided in its representation on this issue. Senator Small led the fight against the bond issue in the Senate, and about half of the representatives in the House will vote against the bond issue.

Incidentally the Ferguson name is being injected in the congressional redistricting proposals. If the redistricting bill fails three congressmen-at-large must be selected next year and rumor has it that Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, both former Governors, will seek these offices. This would make a very nice family arrangement if they were successful.

Redistricting of State senatorial districts and state representative districts will likely not be acted upon in this session. Neither will redistricting for judicial purposes which was proposed by Governor Sterling.

Defeat of the intangible assets tax bill will be heartily approved by small corporations of the State. This tax would have been imposed upon every small corporation and would have worked a very great disadvantage. There is no question but that the State needs more money but it does not wish to jeopardize the future of the small corporations.

Visitors in Austin two or three years hence will see a new University with four million dollars available now from the oil money. Nine buildings are being planned which will take from the campus all of the old wooden shacks and replace them with modern fire-proof structures. At the same time A. & M. College will get three new buildings. All people in Texas will rejoice that the enormous oil field was discovered on the University lands and that the future generations will reap wonderful benefits in this institution.

THE BLUE BONNETS

Years ago when the Indians roamed the Plains of Texas, hunted in the mountains of Texas and fished in the rivers of Texas, the Great Spirit was filled with wrath against his people. The Great Spirit sent a famine which swept the vast state which was not yet a state. The Indians prayed to the Great Spirit for relief. Their animals were dying and they themselves were dying; even the strongest of them.

At last the Great Spirit in his compassion said he would terminate the famine if the most sinless of the Indians would sacrifice his life. Now one of the Indian maidens who was fair to see and the purest of them all, asked that she be sacrificed.

The day she climbed the hill to the altar, her blue bonnet fell from her shoulders. The next morning the hills were covered with vivid blue flowers in the shape of small bonnets splotched with a drop of blood red.

Thus it is the bluebonnets came to Texas.

Thirty years ago today the State Legislature voted the bluebonnet the Texas flower. Many other specimens were suggested but as the legislative body gazed out of the windows of the building they saw the hills covered with fields of blue, for it was March then, too. With such a sight to guide them they passed the bill legalizing the native flower for the state.

Nevertheless, many Texas people have never seen their state flower, and have never heard the legend of its birth. Those who do know it, are proud of it, and are urging that seeds and the plants themselves be planted all over Texas. Why not a campaign for beauty, as well as education, health and numerous other things sponsored by Texans?—Shamrock Texan.

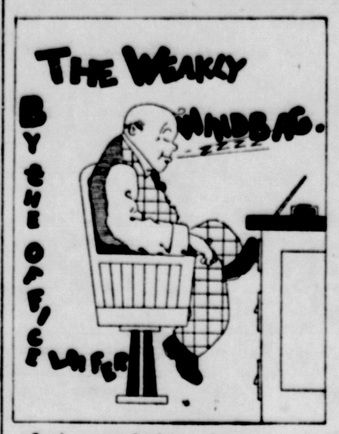
Don't Forget Your MOTHER

SUNDAY, MAY 10th

Candy is always appreciated. We still have a few boxes of King's Special Mother's Day Chocolates. But don't delay any longer.

J. J. Walker Drug Store



Just wondering how a little poetry would go this nice (I hope it'll be nice when you read this) spring weather.

Our dumb office flapper called Susie,
Once pierced a grapefruit juicy,
As she dabbled in her eye,
She observed with a sigh,
"That's the young squirt or my name isn't Susie."

Now dear readers, I hope I live more than a few hours after this comes from the press, but you can't tell about these women, they may strike you when you are not looking.

Anyway, think she should be proud that I am thoughtful enough to dedicate verse to her.

It won't be long now.

Doc Brown was as happy Monday morning as Ed Mickle was when he shot his 39 a few weeks ago. Doc hastened in with the glad news that he played 26 holes of golf Sunday and that his score was 160.

C. R. Burrow inquired of a member of the office force the other day while the rain was falling, as to whether that member thought the rain would be good on the wild oats. Just wondering whose wild oats.

My friend the old Farmer Hogfissel remarked the other day that he always wondered why a man chased a woman until she caught him at the altar.

Sure it won't be long now.

It's tea time. Or at least Susie thinks so. She has turned from the advanced stage of numerology to tea readings. What next? Will someone kindly invent a new way to tell fortunes. Susie has just about run the course, in fact there ain't nothing she hasn't tried.

Just to remind you it won't be long now.

The farmers are in favor of a track meet real often if that's what caused the rain last week.

The young squirt in the back shop says that it looks like if the younger generation were headed anywhere it would have been there long ago, especially if it is as fast as some claim.

Squeek Stratton said that he didn't make any arrests last night. He saw no one with sea-wobbling legs. Personally, I'm glad that my legs don't wobble or I might have been in jail long before now, 'cause I've been to Dallas lots of times.

Nevertheless, it won't be long now.

THE PANHANDLE'S COLLEGE

Residents of the Texas Panhandle give too little attention to their own college—West Texas State Teachers College, located at Canyon. A great number of us fail to recognize the importance fo the institution to this section.

W. T. S. T. C. is one of the best of Texas' smaller colleges. The school has received a great deal of favorable comment over the state and surrounding states for scholastic and athletic attainments. It has a high scholastic standing. No student need have any apologies after graduation from the West Texas school.

People in the Panhandle are indeed fortunate to have such an educational institution in their midst. They are fortunate to have an institution where they can center their cultural advancement — and West Texas State Teachers college is used too little for that purpose.

West Texas State Teachers College deserves a great deal more consideration than it receives from the people of the section in which it is located.—Borger Herald.

Miss Zelma Robinson Becomes Bride of Mr. John Burgan at 3 O'clock Sunday

A wedding of unusual interest to residents of Canyon and Amarillo was solemnized Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Burgan west of the city when the quietly beautiful ceremony spoken at 3 o'clock united in marriage their son, John Burgan of Amarillo and Miss Zelma Robinson also of Amarillo. Rev. W. C. Kunze, pastor of the First Presbyterian church read the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of gladiolas and roses were arranged before the windows to form an altar. Mrs. Glen Dowlen, playing her own accompaniment, sang "I Love You Truly" as a prenuptial solo. For the processional she played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Miss Doris Barker of Amarillo attended the bride and Mr. Logan Haynie of the same city acted as best man. Miss Barker wore a frock of tea rose georgette with touches of lace. She carried roses of the same shade.

The bride chose as her wedding gown a lovely creation of all-over cream lace over pink satin with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Burgan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Robinson. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and has been a student of West Texas State Teachers college. For more than a year she has been associated with the Burroughs Adding Machine company of Amarillo.

PROCESS CHEESE IS NOT CHEESE, GOVERNMENT SAYS

"'What is cheese?' may sound like a foolish question with a high number," says Dr. L. D. Elliott of the food and drug administration, United States department of agriculture, "because, you might say, anyone knows cheese."

But does the average housewife know cheese? Doctor Elliott says "one of the most widely sold cheese products on the market today, which most persons consider to be cheese, is not cheese but process cheese, according to the definition of the food standard committee. When process cheese is sold as cheese it is definitely in violation of the food and drugs act." The housewife who "knows her groceries" must now know the difference between these two articles, both of which can be bought in nearly every grocery store.

"For an example let us consider American cheese, also known as Cheddar cheese," suggests this food chemist. "It is made by the Cheddar process from heated and pressed curd obtained by the action of rennet on whole milk. It contains not more than 39 per cent of water and, in the water-free substance, not less than 50 per cent of milk fat.

"American process cheese or process cheese is the above American cheese to which may have been added one per cent of water and not more than three per cent of suitable emulsifying agents, usually harmless mineral salts.

"This process cheese, put up in moisture-retaining packages, is soft and spreads like butter. It remains soft if kept in the package and there is no waste from drying out. Many housewives like the convenience of this product.

"The manufacture of this process cheese came about when certain factories desired a cheese which would always be the same, which they could market under a brand name made popular through advertising. In straight American cheese there was difficulty in making a uniform product. By processing the American cheese and adding a slight amount of water and mineral salts they got a product which was uniform and which, they soon found, was preferred by some who bought cheese in small quantities.

"The food and drug administration makes no criticism of the product if it is properly labeled," says Doctor Elliott. "It does object to the selling of this process cheese as cheese. The administration wants the housewife to know what she is getting."

BOOSTS FOR PALO DURO

Progress is being made in the campaign to establish a state park in Palo Duro Canyon.

The most significant event recently was the successful effort of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce to have a section of the scenic tract opened to the public. Randall county commissioners are now busy with plans for building a highway to the site, thus making it possible for thousands to visit the canyon this summer.

Another development which has an important bearing on the project is the visit this week of a congressional committee to the Panhandle when an inspection of the canyon will be made. Members of the house appropriations committee will go to the canyon, and when they return to Washington they will be in position to lend much influence to a move for making it a national park. Such a proposal is but a matter of time.

Palo Duro as a great public playground is a major undertaking and one that requires both time and constant effort, but the prospects are steadily improving.—Amarillo News-Globe.

GEORGE WASHINGTON BRANDED HIS CATTLE

Senator Tom Connally, who hails from Texas, the greatest cattle state in the country, has made, according t othe Division of Information and Publication of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, an exhaustive study of George Washington's experiences in producing and handling cattle.

Recently while chatting on this subject with a group of senators and representatives, Connally declared that Washington in his day branded his cattle just as do the cattlemen of Texas and other sections of the West at the present time.

A representative from the east smiled at this statement and said he would like to have a little proof before he could swallow any Washington cattle-branding story.

"Well," smiled the handsome six-footer from the Lone Star state, "I might know that a man from the effete east, whose knowledge of cattle is limited to the little jug of diluted cream on his breakfast table, would have no knowledge of matters of this kind."

Walking over to his bookcase Connally pulled down a volume of Washington's diaries and read a number of items as recorded by the hand of the famous Mount Vernon farmer and cattleman.

Keep Cool and Stylish With Cotton

LOW COST OF MATERIAL INVITES THOSE HANDY WITH NEEDLE TO MAKE A FROCK OR TWO—LINENS, VOILES ALSO POPULAR THIS SUMMER

BY HARRIET

COTTON frocks have made the grade socially and will be seen on the best people going the best places this summer.

Now is the time to climb on the band wagon and make yourself or buy yourself a few snappy cotton or linen frocks while the spring is yet young.

Perhaps the best thing about this new vogue is that it encourages everybody who has a gift for sewing to get out the kit and start in. Material is inexpensive and, despite the longer skirts, it will break no one to make a frock or two. Moreover, if you make them, you can have those little individual touches that will distinguish your costumes and give them chic.

If you are a business girl, you will need some rather practical looking clothes that still are cool looking and cool feeling. There are some figured voiles, in plaids, checks, dots and other rather conventional designs that would be admirable.

One of these is a broken check design, in apple green, which uses the checked material in an interesting diagonal manner.

The waist is tucked in a six inch tuck that gives the appearance of a bolero, especially as the outer edge of the tuck is piped in green a shade darker than the print's figure. There is a second very deep tuck around the hips and from below this box pleats give the skirt fullness.

The long sleeves have a deep tuck around the elbow. The neckline, bow and cuffs are piped in green to give these deep tucks all the trimming that the frock needs. This could be made of gingham, or of linen.

Typical frocks for street and party wear this summer are illustrated above. The wash dress, left, has a broken check design in apple green. An interesting feature is the simulated bolero. The youthful evening gown of peach lace, right, has a very full skirt flare below the hip line.

The interesting lace frock, illustrated here, is apricot colored. It is princess line, a braided cord of apricot ribbon around the waistline for a narrow belt. There is a flaring skirt, made of four sections of lace fastened only above the knee. Under this a taffeta slip is ruffled, like a quaint petticoat. The lace falls apart to show the petticoat, at times.

All of these new cotton and linen and embroidery and lace thin clothes wash beautifully. And certainly that is a distinct advantage in summer time. No wonder they are so popular as well as chic.

AS HOOVER GREETED BOY HERO

It was just like a dream for 13-year-old Bryan Untiedt when he was met at the union Station in Washington, whisked away to the White House in the president's own limousine and later dined and chatted with the President and Mrs. Hoover. Bryan, you recall, saved the lives of 16 children in a Colorado school bus disaster and it was in recognition of this heroic deed that the president invited him to Washington. He is shown above with the chief executive.

CRIME BILL CHARGED TO INADEQUATE EDUCATION

Inadequate education "is responsible for the $13,000,000,000 crime bill of the nation and the present unrest in the home and shocking marriage conditions," Dr. William McAndrew, editor of School and Society, told the convention of the department of superintendence, sponsored by the National Education Association, recently.

Dr. William John Cooper, United States commissioner of education, stated that this meeting of superintendents is the greatest gathering of official and unofficial educators at any one time during the year. Their experience, research and opinions, he said, shape the destiny of American education. Although education is primarily a state and local concern these various groups assembled under the auspices of a non-governmental agency comprise thousands who are linked directly or indirectly with official national committees studying the makeup of educational administration, secondary education, teacher training, illiteracy and similar relations with individual state governments.

Dr. McAndrew, in his address, pointed out the trend in 29 states toward teaching prospective brides and grooms, married men and women, mothers and fathers an intelligent and effective wedded life conduct of a home and training of citizens. He questioned the policy of schools for excluding from their faculties women teachers who marry and raise a family, in commenting upon a policy that he construed as tantamount to coercing the woman teacher either to suffer an economic loss after marriage or to compel her to remain single.

He said that educators must "get the public school system out of the scholastic light of the middle ages."

Charles H. Judd, member of the national advisory committee on education and of the University of Chicago, in a section meeting on school surveys, declared that the resources for educational research by the federal government should be increased and such plans in the future, irrespective of the form of the national agency, can not ignore the research carried on by universities and other educational agencies. He said it is evident that only a federal agency can collect, on a large scale, information regarding operations throughout the country. There should be a proper division of labor between the federal agency and the others, Dr. Judd declared in conclusion.

"Don't you know that the stuff you're drinking is slow poison?" warned the wife. "That's all right, replied the bibulous husband. "I'm in no hurry."

WORK OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS REVIEWED; LOCAL BODY GETS MANY CALLS FOR FUNDS IN WORK

By MRS. T. V. REEVES

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has had and met many calls for work and money during the last two months, as was shown in a review of its problems made this week. The spring months make the heaviest demands on the organization for money and the opportunity for getting a Palo Duro park came this spring when there were many other obligations to meet, according to Beryl Ellis-ton, president, and other officers.

Since the present officers were elected a large amount of seed has been furnished the farmers of Randall County at actual cost. The seed was purchased and distributed through the office of W. H. Upchurch, county agent.

On April 16 and 17 the College band went on its spring trip and the transportation was cared for by the Chamber of Commerce. Despite extremely unfavorable weather, Conductor Strain and his aggregation of thirty visited Hereford, Friona, Bovina and Dimmitt and played a night concert at Texico. According to the accounts in the newspapers of the towns visited, the band made a very favorable impression and reached many prospective students.

On May 4, the College Women's Glee Club went to Panhandle for an afternoon program and gave a night program at Pampa as a feature of the celebration of Music Week there. The Chamber of Commerce took care of the expense of this trip. Miss Ada V. Clark was in charge of this group.

Morse, a new town on the north plains is having a great celebration on May 15, and the Band will be there to play for virtually all of the people of the north plains will be present.

This trip would be out of the question but for the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce with the College. Many of the new people who have moved into the region near Morse are from Oklahoma, Kansas and other States and unless they learn something about the college in Canyon they will send their sons and daughters elsewhere to school, according to a superintendent who was in Canyon last week.

The Chamber of Commerce is furnishing seed for boys of the 4-H clubs of the county, who are working under county agent Upchurch. It has also furnished money to help boys who belong to pig clubs.

One hundred twenty-five dollars is spent each spring to help defray the expenses of the Interscholastic League meet which annually brings more than 1,000 high school boys and girls and their friends to Canyon. This is a great builder for the college and town.

The Chamber of Commerce also assists with the Great Plains Track Meet, which this year was held at night.

It is pointed out by all those who are members of the Chamber of Commerce that the needs of Canyon are many just at this time and that the town may permanently suffer unless it can take care of the needs as they are presented.

Every business man, every teacher and every farmer in Randall county is served by the Chamber of Commerce, and the body hopes that the membership will be greatly increased as the people know of the many things that are being done every month.

Secretary L. N. George states that a drive for members must be made soon, as too few people are sharing in financing the work.

The great trouble with practical jokes is that there is never anything practical about them.

Will you have to start from the beginning again . . and save and save for a home? Or will the fire insurance companies cheerfully and promptly assume all losses?

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 5 CANYON, TEXAS, MAY 7, 1931. NUMBER 32

Well, maybe the rainy spell is over for a while. Things sure look fresh and pretty. As I gaze o'er the landscape I am reminded of a freshman, so nice and green you know. If these wheat farmers all make as much wheat as it seems like they will, lots of people will be driving new "crop-failures" around. Why even Cactus may buy a second-hand $10 Ford. (Maybe). Meet Mrs. Maybe Not.

The seniors and senorettas of the Senior class and otherwise certainly partook of a melodious time at El Taos in Amarillo last Friday night. Purpose: A banquet and dance. Procedure: Eat all that was on the table. Results: A severe pain in the abdominal regions soon after the aforementioned partookal. But we sure did have an enjoyable time. We thought sure the place was being raided when Sharpie dropped a glass of water on Jim Cabe's foot. The girls all wore dresses to this delightful affair and most of the boys wore trousers. How's that for writing us a social event? Didn't think Cactus could do it, did you?

Spring football is coming along fine with a large group out. Coach is still drilling on the fundamentals of play with some signal drill. The team will be both larger in size and more experienced than last year. Prospects are not at all discouraging.

Seniors Enjoy Dinner Party At El Taos

A dinner party was enjoyed by the seniors and other members of Canyon High at El Taos last Friday night.

The groups met at the high school at 7:20 and went in a body to El Taos. Upon their arrival there, a very excellent dinner was served. The menu included fruit cocktail, combination salad, rolls, steak, creamed potatoes, greens, lettuce and ice cream. Lots of fun took place at the table, and everyone enjoyed it immensely.

About 12 o'clock the party made their way back to their own homes, tired but happy. They were chaperoned by Miss Rusk, Mrs. Devault and Mr. Orton.

PIANO AND EXPRESSION RECITAL

The last expression and piano recital of the year will be given Monday, May 11, in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. A very interesting program of piano solos and readings will be given, also a short play by the grade school girls.

ORIGINAL IDEA LEADS TO 30 YEARS OF FORESTRY

A lumberman, who had been in the habit of slashing his white pine and moving on to the next piece, conceived the idea, about 30 years ago, of growing his trees as a permanent crop. Today he ranks as one of the authorities on growing this valuable timber, according to J. C. Kircher, regional forester of the United States forest service. He is O. M. Pratt, of Holderness, N. H., who now has 1800 acres of timber which he is managing for continuous production.

Thirty years ago technical forestry was in its infancy in America. But one day Mr. Pratt looked on the cut-over wreck of a forest and reasoned out a plan of logging. He would take out only the mature trees first, and come back later for other trees, which would grow more rapidly under his plan of culture than they had before.

Desiring the best counsel, he wrote to Washington a few years later and requested the new federal forest service to send a man to look over his holdings. The government forester, after studying Mr. Pratt's methods for a day, acknowledged that the practical woodsman had already developed the best methods of timber culture for his white pine holdings. Mr. Pratt has kept abreast of the foremost in forestry ever since.

At his little sawmill he recently showed federal foresters how pruning converted the butt log from knotty lumber worth $20 per thousand to clear lumber worth $60. He has also found that his hardwood mixed in with the pines yield a good profit when cut into apple-barrel staves.

He has a stand of white pine about 40 years old, which he thinned some years ago. The trees are 8 to 12 inches in diameter. They have been pruned for 16 feet up, and clear butt logs are forming. In 20 years more a cutting can be made. In contrast, he shows a plot of the same age which had been left without thinning or pruning. The trees are badly crowded, only about one-half the size of the others, and it will be a great many years before they will make even knotty lumber.

It's one thing to put money away and another thing to make it stay put.

You have got to tell 'em if you want to sell 'em! ADVERTISE!!

Seniors Review Accomplishments Of Past Year

As the year is drawing to a close, the seniors look back with pleasure over the last year of high school life. It seems to them that this has been an unusually happy year.

They met on September 9, 1930, for the purpose of organizing. Miss Stella Rusk was chosen sponsor of the class. The officers elected were: Nancy Strain, president; Hosea Foster, vice president; Sybil Gidden, secretary-treasurer. These officers were re-elected for the second term.

The first accomplishment of the year was when the seniors put Bettye Sternenberg over as football queen. From each class a representative was chosen for the football queen contest, from which the proceeds went to the football fund. The coronation took place on the football field just before the Hereford-Canyon game.

Soon it was decided that the organization of a Student Council would be worth-while for Canyon High School. A candidate from both the junior and senior class was run for president of this Student Council. Jimmy Gamewell was the senior candidate. This election furnished quite a bit of excitement for several weeks.

The next, and usually the most outstanding event of the year, was the high school carnival. A king and queen were chosen from each class and the contest began. Mildred Middleton and Wayne Tucker represented the senior class at this event. The juniors seemed too good for the seniors again, and crowned their representative.

The seniors first decided to publish a senior magazine, but an annual soon took the place of the magazine. The class has worked very hard on this annual, and they will really have something to show for the hard work. An annual selling contest began between the juniors and seniors, another between sophomores and freshmen. The class that could sell the most annuals placed the pictures of its favorite boy and girl in the Celebrity Section of the annual. The seniors chose Mildred Middleton and James Cabe as their class favorites, and by winning in the contest placed their pictures in the annual.

There are many members in the senior class who deserve mention here. Among them are Bib Jameson, who was captain of the girls' basketball team; Wayne Tucker, captain of the football squad; Hosea Foster, Bib Jameson and George Gaede, who were members of debate teams. The senior recital displayed the talents of four of the senior girls, Betty Sternenberg, Charline Wiseman, Amogene Fowler, and Lucille Davault.

The main events of the year, beginning with the senior play Friday night, will take place during commencement week.

The seniors chose as their motto this year, "Love, labor and laugh." Have they not carried out this motto this year?

CLUBS

The "El Circulo Castellano" met Tuesday, April 28, in the regular period. The program consisted of a spelling match of Spanish words. The last two students to miss were in Spanish I, which put the second year class to shame.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club met Tuesday, April 28, and planned a picnic for May 7 at Viva Belle Cox's home.

The Press Club met Tuesday, April 28 in the regular club room to discuss the plans for the staff next year.

Vincent Lockhart, editor-in-chief of the "Eagle's Tale," talked on the plans for the paper next year, and then gave a demonstration of how to write headlines for newspapers.

CHAPEL

The minister from the Church of Christ, Brother O'Dowd, addressed the chapel body Thursday. His talk was on the question, "Where Are You Going?" His message was full of inspiration and encouragement and was enjoyed by the student body.

Not all diplomats are foreign. The home grown variety are those who laugh at their friend's jokes.

The boy who ceased to be a liability to his parents early in life generally accomplishes something.

You may be admired for sticking up for your rights, but not for carrying a chip on your shoulder.

Who said family discipline was disappearing? Most parents do just what their children desire.

Tumblers Give Program At Chapel Wed.

The boys tumbling class from W. T. S. T. C., under the supervision of Mitchell Jones, gave a very unusual program in assembly Wednesday, April 29.

They did various tricks and many stunts which they had learned this year. These boys had worked hard for the last three months and showed marked ability.

The tumblers were: Elmer Wooten, Johnnie Plaster, Wayne Porter, "Runt" Wooliver and Willie Brian.

EDITORIAL

STUDENTS AND THE NEWSPAPER

Do we, as high school students, make any attempt to know the condition of our state or our country through the reading of newspapers? Do we know what is happening outside the Purple Page or our own four walls? If we do not, we should; and even though we may have made some effort in that direction, we should strive to read more intelligently and to make the time we spend reading pay us dividends.

Newspapers and magazines are brimful of the new republic in Spain, right along with the flight of the royal family, the trouble in Nicaragua, the ever-present prohibition question, the bonus bill, and oil proration, to say nothing of the price of wheat. Some of these things have a direct influence on our lives; others affect us only as we hear them discussed. However, regardless of their bearing on our circumstances now, it is up to us to begin to formulate our opinions and to exercise our judgment.

Next year is presidential election year. We won't have much to do or say about who is elected president then; but who will be voting for president in 1936, five years from now? Do we expect when our time comes to help determine that election, to suddenly acquire discernment enough to know whom to vote for? When we are twenty-one, will we automatically acquire knowledge of governmental affairs? We know that we will not; so it is up to us to begin having ideas of our own right now. Whom do you want to see in the president's chair in 1932?

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

ABILENE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE WINS GREAT PLAINS TRACK MEET UNDER BUFFALO LIGHTS

CANYON, May 2.—Under the powerful flood lights in Buffalo Stadium with a yellow moon smilling down, the Wildcats of Abilene Christian College ran, jumped and timber-topped their way to win in the eleventh annual Great Plains Track and Field meet here Saturday night. The A. C. C. stars scored 55 1-6 points to lead a classy field of seven colleges from three states.

The powerful Central Teachers Bulldogs of Edmund, Okla., placed second with 40 and 1-6 counters, while the other entries lagged behind as follows: Amarillo College 24 1-6, New Mexico Military Institute 23, Panhandle A. & M. of Goodwell, Okla., 16 1-3; West Texas Teachers, 6, and Randolph Junior College of Cisco, 0. The Baptist University of Shawnee, Okla., failed to show, having encountered muddy roads on the journey to Canyon.

The winners displayed the form that has won national recognition for them in the relays by running away from the field in the mile and medley relays. The national champions did not set new records for the meet chiefly because the track was soggy and heavy from down pours Friday and Saturday.

A crowd of 500 fans saw the events and what a thrill they got out of the spectacle of a track meet at night. Had the weather been different, the night phase of the tournament would have added much to the meet. On all sides were favorable comments, the galloping figures of runners standing out in relief against the lights and the green grass of the arena.

In the tennis division of the meet the players battled on the court inside the Buffalo Gym until 7 o'clock Saturday night, due to inclement weather outside. The play got as far as the finals in the doubles, O'Keefe and Fowler of West Texas and West and Farmer of Randolph College emerging victors in their respective brackets. The former beat Townsend and Bryan of Central Teachers 6-4, 6-4, and the latter beat Morgan and Harper of Central Teachers, 6-3 and 11-9, in the semi-minals.

In the tennis matches Randolph College were pushed to five hard sets in the doubles to win from West Texas State Teachers College, Farmer and West representing Randolph, and O'Keefe and Fowler representing W. T. Townsend and Harper of Central Teachers College marched to the finals in the singles events. Because both entrants were from the same school, no finals match was played.

Our protracted union meeting opened Sunday morning. Bro. J. R. Plant of Vigo Park preached Sunday morning and at night. Bro. J. A. Lindley of Tulia occupied the pulpit Monday morning and evening. Both are fine preachers and sermonizers, and we are hoping and trusting for a good revival. Crowds are fairly good considering the threatening weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hartric expect to visit at Temple with Mr. Hartric's parents for about a month before returning to Wayside. They left a few days ago.

ASHWORTH ELECTED TO M. U. HONOR SOCIETY

Another W. T. graduate has recently been recognized for scholastic ability. Delmar Ashworth, who graduated with the class of 1928 has just been elected to membership in Kappa Tau Alpha, the honorary scholastic fraternity of the School of Journalism, University of Missouri, where Mr. Ashworth is working towards his master's degree. This fraternity selects its members from the upper eight per cent in the professional courses only and this year only three other persons were elected which makes this even a more signal honor for Mr. Ashworth.

Wire Worms—

about the latter part of May and June a year ago, unprecedented numbers of black beetles were noticed in all wheat fields and also crawling on the roads and highways near where wheat was growing. The beetles were doing little or no damage to the wheat, but the immature stage, known as the plains false wire worm, causes damage that is increasing in importance.

The insect has been known to entomologists for more than 100 years, being native to the Great Plains area of the United States, but it was not known to be of economic importance until 1908. Most of the injury is caused by the young wire worms and occurs during the fall just after the wheat is planted. The larvae attack the seed, preventing germination, and may also cut off the young plant just above the seed or may feed on the roots. Such injury has resulted in many poor stands, and in some cases several replantings have been necessary. Even in spring, after the wheat has made considerable growth, the wire worms may weakens the plants so that yields are still further reduced. There is no doubt that losses as a result of the presence of this pest have been far greater than is commonly supposed.

S. E. Jones, entomologist of the Texas Experiment Station, who is now making the survey, spent two months last fall in the north plains wheat section obtaining information on the various soil conditions, cultural measures, and cropping systems that appeared to be favorable or detrimental to the early development of false wire worms. He found that wire worm larvae are most abundant where the land has been planted continuously in wheat and where the soil was medium dry. Examinations were made of more than 300 soil samples in the vicinities of Plainview, Canyon, Amarillo, and Pampa. An average of 33 worms per square yard was found in seven different fields near Canyon. At Amarillo 20 worms per square yard were found; 18 at Pampa; and nine at Plainview. Heavy rains when the insect was in the adult stage caused the death of large numbers of the beetles. From three and one-half to four and one-half inches of rain fell at Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview last June, and this probably had considerable influence in preventing a heavier fall infestation. Less than two inches of rain was recorded in Canyon at the same time.

Where the land had been in row crops, even following the blowing away of wheat in spring, there was little or no infestation in fall. Clean summer fallow and use of row crops in the heavily infested fields is beneficial for reducing wire worm injury. The practice of dry planting early in the fall is to invite loss in infested fields. Where possible, planting machinery should be used that will aid germination by making the moisture more available. No seed treatment is known that is efficient and practical for repelling or killing false wire worms.

PRAIRIE WINS FIRST PLACE IN ANNUAL T. I. P. A. CONTEST WITH ELEVEN TEXAS COLLEGES

W. T. Paper Is Awarded Silver Cup Given By Dallas Morning News; Three Other Contest Entrees from Here Place in Finals

For the first time in several years The Prairie was this year given first place in its class in the annual college newspaper contest held by the Texas Intecollegiate Press Association, thereby winning a prize cup awarded by the Dallas Morning News.

Announcement of this rating for the newspaper, and of the winning of three more places from among the seven literary contests entered by W. T., including second place in serious short stories with a story entitled "The Legend of Those of the Golden Blood," written by Charles Ferguson, third place in sports stories with an article entitled "West Texas vs. East Texas," written by C. B. Shepard, and fourth place in editorials with an editorial entitled "Shoe Level Philosophy," written by Ernest Cabe, Jr., was made at the annual banquet of T. I. P. A. Convestion at Nacogdoches, Friday night.

Due to the fact that W. T. does not offer nine term hours or more of journalism, which is a T. I. P. A. constitutional requirement for Class A membership, The Prairie falls in the Class B of the association's newspaper division. Of the fourteen Texas schools who were this year members of the T. I. P. A., only two ranked in Class A under this ruling, those two being Simmons University and Texas Technological College. In this division Simmons was awarded first prize, and Tech, second.

In the Class B division, which included twelve schools, the W. T. paper was given first place, and the Abilene Christian College "Optimist," second. No third places were given in either of the two divisions. The issues of The Prairie entered in the contest were four consecutive numbers dated January 13, January 20, January 27, and February 3.

A complete list of results of the thirteen contests held by the Association may be read from the bulletin board in The Publications Office any time this week, and will be published in the next issue of The Prairie.

Asked to name the six greatest figures in history, H. G. Wells replied: Jesus, Buddha, Asoka, Aristotle, Bacon, Lincoln. Most people had never heard of Osoka until Wells mentioned him.

W. T. DELEGATES MAKE LENGTHY T. I. P. A. TRIP

Convention Is Big Affair; Prominent Paper Men Address Students.

Attending one of the most successful annual conventions which the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association has ever held, four members of the two W. T. publications staffs were in Nacogdoches Friday and Saturday. The trip was made by automobile, the group leaving here early Wednesday morning, and returning Sunday night.

Those who made the trip were John Gillham, manager of the Prairie; Lonie Beth Weaver, editor of The Prairie; Sally Mary Campbell, society editor on the Prairie, and Florence Throckmorton, editor-elect of Le Mirage.

Election of the place of meeting and the election of officers of the association for the current year, which took place Saturday morning, were most important among the business proceedings of the convention. The bid of the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton for the convention was accepted over that of the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, due to the more central location of the former which will enable more of the member colleges to send delegates.

In accordance with the T. I. P. A. constitutional rule the president, corresponding secretary, and the treasurer among the officers for 1932 were elected from students of N. T. S. T. C. Other officers were elected from the delegates who represented other schools, Lonie Beth Weaver from W. T. being made vice president. Her election to this office means that Miss Weaver will be in charge of the choice of judges for next year's contests, will handle the material sent in from all of the member colleges, and will award the prizes at the annual banquet next year.

The convention this year at Nacogdoches, held there at very short notice from Texas Woman's College which was to have entertained the delegates, opened Thursday evening with an informal reception to the incoming delegates, and registration at the social room in the college.

Friday the delegates, which represented A. C. C., Simmons U., Wichita Falls Junior College, N. T. S. T. C., Sam Houston S. T. C., A. and I., Trinity University, W. T. S. T. C., McMurry, Amarillo College, Sul Ross, and Stephen F. Austin S. T. C., were entertained with a most dynamic address by Judge W. O. Huggins, editor of the Houston Chronicle; an informal address by Lynn W. Landrum, editorial writer on the Dallas Morning News who was formerly editor of The Daily Texan, the student paper of the University; and a luncheon at the Liberty Hotel, at which Bob Renfro, accomplished pianist from Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, and Mrs. Karle Wilson Baker, vice president of the Texas Poetry Society, and member of the Stephen F. Austin faculty, entertained them with music and poetry.

The annual banquet of the convention was held Friday night at the Liberty Hotel, through the courtesy of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce. The prizes in the various contests were awarded at this time by N. L. Allen, vice president of the association for 1931. Mr. Landrum of the Dallas Morning News was main speaker at this banquet.

On Saturday, following the business meetings in which many of the problems of college publications were discussed and steps taken toward improvement, together with the election of next year's meeting place, and the election of officers, lunch was served at the College Coffee Shop off the campus. The rest of the day was spent in social activities including an informal party at the Nacogdoches Country Club, a tea at 5 o'clock, and the all-college dance in Aikman Gymnasium at which T. I. P. A. delegates were honor guests.

A PROBLEM OF THE AGES

Recently a pastor began his sermon with a statement which sounds quite familiar. He said:

"There is lawlessness everywhere. Children no longer obey their parents. It is evident that the end of things is at hand."

Then the preacher told his congregation that the words were not original with him, nor even an utterance of the present day, but that they had been translated from an inscription found among the ruins in ancient Assyria, dating centuries before the time of the patriarch Abraham.

Throughout all recorded history such pessimism regarding the future of the race has been expressed from time to time. Now and then an era of comparative peace and quiet has been experienced, only to be followed by recurring outbreaks of violence and lawlessness.

While present day conditions are bad enough, it seems that on the whole they are better than those of the past. There is more thought given to the relief of suffering, to the betterment of industrial conditions, to the protection of the helpless and to other humanitarian enterprises than ever before.

Although the World war gave civilization a severe test, recovery has been rapid and the ground lost is being speedily regained. It must be remembered that war has marked the history of every generation of mankind, and the same is true of lawlessness, oppression and every other manifestation of human imperfection.

It is reasonable to believe that these will always exist in greater or less degree, so long as good and evil struggle for mastery in the minds and hearts of men.

An optimist is a man who will buy an eskimo pie and carry it home in his hip pocket.

DAIRYMEN MEET

Regular Monthly Meeting Held in Amarillo Monday.

The Randall County Dairyman's association met in Amarillo Monday afternoon in the regular monthly meeting. At that time J. C. Penney, visiting in Amarillo, was present and spoke to the dairymen.

It was voted to alternate the meetings between Canyon and Amarillo during the rest of the year. The next meeting will be held in the courthouse in Canyon the first Tuesday night in June.

There is a bright side to everything, but so many people fail to look at both sides.
